COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS' OFFICE

Application has been made to the State Highway Commission to have the Town Road Improvement Fund on the North West Bethel Road, commencing near the Riverside Cemetery and extending North Westward to the beginning of the 1936 construction, a short distance above the William Chapman farm.

Word from the Commission should be received within two weeks as to whether it has been accepted or not.

The 1936-1937 construction was surfaced with a penetration coat last year. When the budget was set up for this year it was doubtful if this section could be surfaced treated with a much the full distance. The cost of surfacing has been less than anticipated, due to the fact that the spreader has been very efficient in applying the asphalt. There are enough funds available for the much job on this entire two miles.

It is rather disconcerting to have horses, some types of farm machinery and lag tractors driven over a paved road, particularly new work. Once the surface is broken up it can only successfully be repaired by a new mulch coat.

Town meeting records have been checked back to 1931 and a list of roads that have been discontinued has been compiled for easy reference. Also a list of new streets and roads that have been laid out and accepted by the town. The list gives the volume and page for easy reference to the old town meeting records and a brief account of each street or road.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

HUMANE ANIMAL SLAUGHTER BILL SIDE-TRACKED IN CONGRESS

Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, and other meat packers have won a round in their fight against humane societies, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and religious groups such as the Board of Social and Economic Relations of the Methodist Church, the Southern Baptist Convention, the National Council of Catholic Women, and other citizens who are seeking to curb cruel slaughtering practices. The humane slaughter bill had long been delayed in the Senate Agriculture Committee after passing the House of Representatives overwhelmingly this February. Senator Ellender, Chairman of the Committee, obtained defeat of the humane measure by amending it into the study bill which the meat packers wish to see enacted as a hedge against effective legislation. The bill met this same fate in the Committee in 1956. But the House Committee on Agriculture investigated slaughterhouses in person, observed cruel methods in use on most animals and practical humane methods in use in some plants. They sent an effective bill (requiring the use of humane methods by all pack-

IN AND ABOUT BETHEL

Lynn Langille of Marlboro, Mass., is visiting Gerry Brooks.

Mrs. Lesta Compass is a patient at the St. Louis Hospital, Berlin.

A group from the Gould Academy Class of 1927 got together last Sunday at Mrs. Lauri Tamminga's in Yarmouth. Those present were Mrs. Bertha Mills and Mrs. Edna York of Bethel, Mrs. Vivian Barlow of East Andover, and Mrs. Mildred Parker of North Leeds.

Persons wishing to contract with the government to the House by a majority of 25 to 3, and it was passed by voice vote. The Senate Committee did no slaughterhouse inspection. At the recent hearings they even refused to see and hear a sound film graphically depicting routine pig slaughter as inflicted on more than 80,000,000 pigs each year. Then they passed a study bill, which would not protect even one animal, by a vote of 10 to 5.

Humane slaughter proponents will contest the decision. They state that the Senate as a whole cannot be dominated by the meat packers. The United States is one of the few civilized countries which does not require humane slaughtering methods in its packing plants. Humane methods whereby animals are rendered insensible to pain and fear, have been proved to save money by reduction of bruising of meat, injury to workers on the killing floor, reduction of labor turnover and operation, and other factors. More mail has reached Washington for enactment of the legislation than on any other issue during the past two years.
